PROFILE

I started ChrowmDesigns in 1999. My background spans art direction and UX, with work on Marriott Vacation Club's booking experience, Carrabba's Tableside platform, and Beat Saber Music Packs. Today, I work with agencies and in-house teams on research, information architecture, and interface design. I stay involved through prototyping and developer handoff.

EXPERIENCE

Senior UX Strategist

ChrowmDesigns · Remote, Florida | 1999–Present

- Plan research and use the findings to map user flows. Develop those flows into wireframes and prototypes, with annotations for the developers building them.
- Run 3–5 client engagements at a time, working remotely with product teams, engineers, and decision-makers on project priorities and design reviews.
- Create component libraries for repeat use across interfaces. Accessibility reviews cover keyboard use and screen-reader labels as well as text and background contrast.

SELECTED PROJECT WORK

- Marriott Vacation Club: Led UX and brand strategy with Pocket Made on an experience spanning four brands. Worked through booking flows and documented the designs in annotated wireframes for development.
- Beat Saber: Served as Senior UX Strategist and Art Director on Music Packs with Beat Games. The work gave each artist a distinct visual treatment within Beat Saber's existing gameplay conventions.
- Carrabba's: Led UX strategy for Tableside with Voce Communications / Porter Novelli. Research with 12 cooks informed the content structure and navigation. The project reported 40% faster access to content and 28% greater mobile session depth.
